Four Brix Winery is a throw back to the days of blended wines made in California. We do not make wine to fit into an appellation, single vineyard or varietal. We believe that California offers the best grapes in the world, but not all varietals grow best in every area of the State. So we source eleven single varietals from nine different vineyards covering six separate appellations to make five California blended wines. The name Four Brix pays tribute to the four wine regions we have traveled to and experienced the beauty, culture, and manner in which blended wine fits into everyday life: France, Spain, Italy, and our home, California. "Not Just Another Brix in the Wall". Cheers from the Noonan, Simonsgaard and Stewart families.
